Re: Current Housing and Mortgage Finance Crisis

Dear Senator / Representative (last name):

I am very fortunate because I own my own home. As I am sure you know owning a home is hard work, but well worthwhile. I was fortunate because I had loan choices that helped me make my home affordable.

I understand that you have received a report called: Reforming America's Housing Finance Market from the Obama Administration I now hear that those same choices I had may not be available in the future. I want to know what positions you are taking on my behalf.

I am very concerned about the consequences that I may face in the future as a homeowner or homebuyer. With less loan choices I be able to move again? Will someone wanting to buy my home be able to have the same affordable choices I had? If not, will my home then decline in value as a result?

Please respond.

Sincerely,

Mary Doe
